Course Catalogue:

Research and experimentation in painting as a major or minor concentration.

Course Description:

As an advanced class, the course will focus on research and experiment of painting medium. To serve individual students' direction and needs, each student will examine and develop his or her painting practice in its contents, formal elements and aesthetics through independent studio practice at an intense level. Students will regularly meet and consult with the instructor for guidance in the technical and conceptual development of their work. Research on art historical references and contemporary painting practice, as well as writing an artist statement will be part of the course, along with building a strong professional portfolio.

Course Objectives:

1. To practice intensive study of painting media in its technique and explore different applications of each medium.
2. To strengthen and build unique visual content of painting through creative processes and conceptual frameworks.
3. To successfully communicate and deliver the intent of students' work through structured artist statements.

4. To research art historical periods and contemporary artists' work that relates to students' contents and practices.
5. To be able to articulate and discuss the formal and conceptual analysis of students' work as well as their classmates' work in critique.
6. To understand the context of painting in art history and the contemporary art world and gain the ability to manifest a relationship with the student's body of work.
7. To be able to articulate critical thoughts in written form from reading materials, articles, and exhibition reviews.
8. To exhibit or present created a body of work in a professional manner

Course Requirements

1. This class is very intense. On average, most work presented in each group critique required at least 15 hours of weekly studio work. Such commitment is expected to develop a body of works as a graduate student.
2. All students must participate in group critiques and discussions. The instructor will provide information and guideline for each day's critique. If you can't join a zoom meeting, the critique can be submitted as a written form.
3. The student will complete reading and writing assignments provided by the instructor along with producing a body of works for portfolio. Process of your assignment needs to be uploaded on Padlet as the instructor needs to see your learning progress.
4. After each critique (either group or individual), students need to improve any assignment and include them in your final portfolio.
5. Portfolio Review: Individual critiques and reviews will take place during the class hours stated in the schedule for finals. It is each student's responsibility to keep all artwork in perfect condition so that it can be reviewed without damage. There will be photo session after each final review of the student's artwork. Students are required to assist with photography sessions.
6. Student will acknowledge that images of student and their artwork can be used for PR purposes in FHSU painting department's social media. Anyone who does not want such exposure, let instructor know at the beginning of the semester.

Attendance policy

1. Attendance: Students are expected to be present in ALL CLASSES. More than three absences during the whole course of the semester, excluding the holiday schedule, will result in A FULL LETTER GRADE down for every additional absence for the final grade. More than six unexcused absences will result in failing grade.
2. Students are expected to be on time and ready for the class, absence during attendance calling will be considered as late which equals to a half absence.
3. Student must notify the instructor as soon as possible about their absences or if they will be late to class via e-mail for your future record and evidence.

4. If student need to quarantine due to Covid, student must notify instructor immediately and submit proper documentation for their absences. Student still must review course materials and complete assignments available on Blackboard. Failure to communicate with instructor and incomplete assignment will consider as an absence.

Communication

The best way to communicate with me is via email jhwang@fhsu.edu. Subject for your email must clarify which class and session that you are in.

A positive learning environment for the Classroom.

Be kind and courteous: we are all in this together to create a positive learning environment. Let's treat everyone with respect. Be sure you help each other and feel free to ask help to the instructor and your peers. Healthy debates and critical perspectives are natural, but please keep it kind.

Methods of Evaluation

Students will be evaluated on their understanding of the process and technique of painting based on their technical and conceptual development. The level of time invested, effort expended, and quality, as well as the degree of completion, will be critical factors in evaluation.

Grading

Final grades will be determined by the following

A. Painting Portfolio -----	60%
• All independent paintings in series
B. Classroom participation, progress and writing assignments -----	30%

Studio use

No spray paint, fixative spray that are irritants and / or toxic and have strong vapors are to be used in the studio. Please read and respect studio use guidelines posted in classrooms. Each student is responsible for studio clean-up.

For health and safety reasons, No eating and drinking is allowed inside of the studio. Please take your food outside of the classroom during the break.

Guideline for safe use in painting materials:

Paints

Do not throw away oil paints and/or any kinds of paints in the sink. Clean them with paper towels and discard them into the hazardous materials container. Small amounts of paint can be cleaned with paper towels or rags and discarded into the hazardous materials container.

Poisonous and toxic paint

Pigments such as Naples Yellow, Lead White, Cobalt paint and Cadmium paint contains poisonous element as well as all painting mediums (Terpenoid, Linseed oil, Darmar Varnish and Linquin). Always check the label and read information on the product and handle with care.

Gamsol

Fort Hays State University Painting Department decided to use Gamsol for solvent in the painting studio. Gamsol has lower toxicity, lower volatility, and higher flashpoint since it was distilled at a high temperature and purified of all aromatic hydrocarbons. Gamsol can be used as paint thinner or can be mixed with other drying mediums except for dammar oil. It can also be used to thin traditional oil paints and it can be used with Liquin, linseed, walnut, and safflower oil. Choosing Gamsol will help to maintain a safer environment for the Center for Art and design and community at Fort Hays State University.

Solvent

Do not pour Gamsol, solvents, mediums or any kind of toxic materials down the sink. They are prohibited by the law. If you have old or dirty Gamsol, pour into the recycling containers so that we can reuse and process them properly. Students should have their own personal brush cleaning tanks. All brush cleaning tanks, bottle, and container should be closed with their lids. Do not leave any solvent container open. Student's individual cleaning tanks should be stored in the designated flammable cabinet

Labels

All container must be clearly labeled. No recycled container with food reference should be used in the painting studio.

Paint rags

Do not leave your paint rags on the countertop. Paint pigments and terpenoid can vaporize into the air. Put them into your paint toolbox inside of ziplock bag or sealed container. Rag, steel wool, or wasted soaked with linseed oil may spontaneously catch fire without ignition if improperly discarded.

For health and safety reasons there is absolutely no eating or drinking allowed in the painting studio.

PLEASE DO NOT LEAVE PALLETTE WITH PAINTS ON TABLETOP AFTER SESSION.

KEEP ALL OF YOUR SUPPLIES AND PAINTINGS IN YOUR OWN CABINET. INSTRUCTOR OR UNIVERSITY IS NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR LOST OR STOLEN ART SUPPLIES. WRITE YOUR NAME ON ALL SUPPLIES!

IF IT IS USED WITH CARE AND KNOWLEDGE, OIL MEDIUM IS SAFE MATERIAL TO USE. BY REGISTERING PAINTING CLASS, STUDENTS AGREE TO FOLLOW ALL SAFETY RULES IN USING MATERIALS IN ORDER TO RESPECT ENVIRONMENT FOR OTHER STUDENTS AND FACULTY.

Disclaimer

The instructor reserves the right to amend the course syllabus during the term. If changes must be made, students will be notified. Notice given during class is considered proper notice.
