

Acknowledgement of Certification and Agreement:

Fort Hays State University (FHSU), on April 23 signed and returned the first half of the Funding Certification and Agreement to the Department of Education. On April 24, FHSU signed and returned the second half of the Funding Certification to the Department of Education. FHSU has allocated 50% of these funds under Section 18004(a)(1) of the CARES Act to provide Emergency Financial Aid Grants to their students for costs due to the coronavirus and disruption of on-campus operations. FHSU acknowledges and intends to solely use to the funds for the purposes that have been authorized in Section 18004(a)(1) in the CARES Act.

On May 5, 2020, FHSU signed and returned the Certification and Agreement to the Department of Education for the additional CARES Act HEERF Strengthening Institutions application for an additional $124,525. These funds will be awarded and disbursed to students from the original pool of applicants. All of the eligibility criteria will remain the same. Any unused portion of these funds will then go to the institutional share to use for appropriate campus operations and expenses.

On December 27, 2020 the Coronavirus Response and Relief Supplemental Appropriations Act, 2021 (CRRSAA) (HEERF II) was passed. Fort Hays State University received an allocation and intends to provide at least the same amount of funding in financial aid grants to students as was required to provide under sections 18004(a)(1) and (c) of division B of the Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security Act (CARES Act)(Pub. L. 116-136). Institutions must make financial aid grants to students which may be used for any component of the student's cost of attendance or for emergency costs that arise due to coronavirus, such as tuition, food, housing, health care, or child care.

On March 11, 2021, the American Rescue Plan Act, passed and provided funds for the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund III (HEERF III) grant. This is the third round of funding appropriated to institutions to provide emergency grants to students for prevention, preparation, and response to coronavirus. Fort Hays State University's plan includes distribution to students who were enrolled in at least one credit hour at FHSU on or after March 13, 2020 and who can demonstrate exceptional need.

Distributing Method

HEERF I: We recognize that students who were PELL Eligible at the time campus operations ceased on-campus instruction, were impacted greatly since they have the most need. A variety of disruptions occurred, as students were asked to move on short notice, and have incurred extra travel, internet service, and/or other costs associated with the changes and disruptions. For example, many students were also no longer able to utilize the food services at FHSU and would have been required to pay for food for the last six weeks of the academic year. These students would need to have a way to access classes at home and could have been required to purchase a computer or other technology. Due to these factors, and in alignment with the Department of Education’s guidance and original allocation formula, PELL students were determined to have been significantly impacted, and the awarding process outlined herein developed.

FHSU awarded and distributed the HEERF student grants with a hybrid approach. Pell eligible students received a block grant and all other eligible students must apply for the funds. The student allocation of $1,262,038 was split 75% for PELL eligible students and 25% for all other Title IV eligible students who completed a FAFSA prior to the end of the Spring 2020 semester. Students had to be enrolled in at least one on-campus class at the time of the transition of campus operations and have to be Title IV eligible to qualify for the funds.

PELL Portion:

$940,434

Tier 1 – Expected Family Contribution was less than or equal to $700 for the 2019-20 academic year = 648 students

55% = $517,935

517,935/648 = $799/ student

Tier 2 – Expected Family Contribution was between $701 to $5576 for the 2019-20 academic year = 651 students

45% = $422,499

422,499/651 = $649/ student

All other TIV Portion:

$321,604

An online form has been created. Students who are not PELL eligible can select items (listed below) that they had to pay for or purchase due to the conversion to online instruction and their move from campus. When the completed application is returned FHSU will assign one of four possible awards ($100, $300, $649, $803) based on the students need, the costs reported, and the number of applications received. Applicants will be considered on a first-come first-serve process, and when funds are depleted the program will then end. The components are as follows:

Travel/Moving Costs:

Food:

Utilities:

Internet Costs:

Computer purchase:

Other:

Rent was not included in the list as students who were living on campus were given a prorated refund of housing. These funds could have been used to pay for housing they needed to secure when moving off campus. If they lived off campus at the time of the transition to online, this cost was not a new cost incurred by the student.

Upon disbursement, eligibility will be reviewed again for any students who dropped all classes for the semester at 100% refund. They would not be eligible for the direct grants.

Strengthening Institutions Portion:

$361,553

Student Grants: $361,553

HEERF I Supplemental: The remaining applications from students who were not Pell eligible were used to award a portion of the Strengthening Institutions funds. When all applications were evaluated and awards had been made, the remaining funds were used by the University to pay for expenses incurred by the disruption to campus operations in compliance with Section 18004(a)(1), 18004(c) and 18006 of the CARES Act. $124,057

HEERF II Supplemental: FHSU added the institutional money back into the pool for awarding in HEERF II. All students awarded had an EFC less than or equal to $5,711. $197,000 was awarded to students during the HEERF II awarding cycle.

HEERF III Supplemental Awarding: FHSU added the additional $40,464 into the HEERF III awarding cycle and utilized the remainder of the funds.

HEERF II:

In accordance with the regulatory requirements set by the Department of Education, HEERF II funds were prioritized for student with exceptional need. Students had to be enrolled in at least one credit hour on or after March 22, 2021, be eligible to receive Title IV aid, have a FAFSA on file with Fort Hays State University, and have an expected family contribution less than or equal to $5,711. If all requirements were met, students were awarded a direct grant of $500.

$1,370,261

2,739 X $500

The remaining $761 was awarded in the HEERF III funding cycle.

HEERF III 1st Round:

Students in this group will be notified that they are eligible through their FHSU email. Awarding to this group will be on a first-come, first-serve basis, and when funds are depleted awarding will cease.
