Good News

FHSU FACULTY PARTICIPATE IN INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP

FHSU faculty members Dr. Yaprak Dalat-Ward (Advanced Educational Programs) and Dr. James (Skip) Ward (Department of Applied Business Studies) participated in a virtual workshop at ITMO University in St. Petersburg. Dalat-Ward presented the keynote address on Career Management, in which she highlighted the need to be flexible in the pursuit of full-time employment. Skip Ward facilitated sessions where he drew upon his over 30 years of experience with Royal Dutch Shell, and the U.S. State Department in public affairs. More than 250 students from around the world participated virtually in the event.

STUDENT TEACHER RECEIVES HIGH PRAISE

FHSU student Tiffany Cawby, an early childhood unified education major, is student teaching at the Swenson Early Childhood Center for kindergarten this semester. Her mentor teacher, Emily Duncan, is impressed with Tiffany's "fresh ideas, willingness to take feedback, and leadership."

"Tiffany has gone above and beyond what a student teacher should ever have to do. She will be a great asset to the teaching field, and I hope one day I can teach alongside her at Swenson."

THIS FHSU ALUM IS CHANGING THE WORLD ONE EXPERIENCE AT A TIME

12/02/21

Be Good. Make A Difference. Change the World. These eight words are the guiding principles of Fort Hays State University alumnus Peter J. Werth. Indeed, I have witnessed over and over again his kindness, the tremendous impact he has had on teaching and learning at FHSU, and how Peter has changed not only our world but the lives of so many.
