THE LITERATURE OF PROTEST AND THE CONSUMPTION OF ACTIVISM

Dr. Eric Leuschner, chair and professor of English in FHSU's College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences published an article in the fall issue of JMMLA: The Journal of the Midwest Modern Language Association. "This essay defines a literature of protest as a way to engage both historical and fictional protest, drawing in part on John Stauffer's rhetorical strategies of protest literature — empathy, shock value, and symbolic action."

NEW SEAT ON GOVERNOR'S MILITARY COUNCIL CREATED FOR FHSU

11/30/21

Thanks largely to the work of FHSU's Dr. Seth Kastle, assistant professor of Leadership Studies, Fort Hays State has been granted a new seat on the governor's military council. Kastle will be the first person to fill this ex officio position.

GRATITUDE FOR FAMILY, FRIENDS, TRADITIONS

12/16/21

As I sit down to write this column, I am preparing for the annual Holiday Open House at the president's residence and the tree lighting ceremony this evening. The month of December will fly by between semester-end traditions, including in-person commencement, service awards, and of course, the busy-ness and joy of the approaching holiday. I love all of it!
