TIGER ATHLETES EARN NATIONAL ACADEMIC ALL-AMERICAN HONORS

7/18/23

In 1952, a group known as the College Sports Communicators (CSC) created a new accolade called the "Academic All-America" program to recognize student-athletes who excel in the classroom and athletic competition. The program is known today as the College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-American program, and to qualify for consideration, a student-athlete must be a starter or play an important role as a reserve or substitute with at least a 3.30 cumulative grade point average (on a 4.0 scale) at their current institution.
