FROM HELL TO THE MIDWEST: STORY MAPPING HOLOCAUST SURVIVOR TESTIMONY

Amber Nickell and Hollie Marquess are working on an interdisciplinary mapping project to map the trajectories of nearly one hundred Holocaust survivors who rebuilt their lives in the Kansas City area. An Undergraduate Research Experience Grant generously funded the project. Marquess and Nickell are also the recipients of one of the first College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences Innovation Grants.

CHANGING THE WAY LAW ENFORCEMENT MANAGES POTENTIAL CONFLICTS

02/01/24

In the aftermath of the tragic murder of George Floyd in Minneapolis, MN, the urgent need for effective de-escalation techniques within law enforcement became painfully clear. During this time, the National De-escalation Training Center (NDTC) emerged as a beacon of hope, providing comprehensive training programs to reduce use-of-force incidents and save lives.
